RE: Site Inspection, M/015/024, Mountain King

I inspected the above referenced site on December 30, 1987. The site consists of a half dozen small portals on the side of a hill. The area is obviously old with a number of old wooden chutes still in place.

Two or three of the portals have been backfilled or blasted shut. Total surface disturbance at this site was approximately two acres. No further action in warranted.
